HISTORY

There is insufficient data available on the background of the man who is known as the Ambush Bug. Though appearing first as a super-villain, he changed his mind and has been actively pursuing a career as a super-hero, operating out of a small storefront office in Metropolis. He fancies-sizes that he is Superman's partner but is actually a loner.

POWERS & WEAPONS

The Ambush Bug has the singular ability to teleport anywhere on Earth. His exact teleportational limits are unknown, although, until recently, the Ambush Bug thought he needed small electronic bugs to be in position to teleport to a specific location. He maintained bugs in his antennae but has since learned these are not necessary. The Bug has a certain amount of invulnerability but it, like his teleportational powers, is derived from the costume, not the man. The Bug also has an inability to deal in linear logic.
